

Instructions and Commitment Form for New Web Site on a Dedicated Computer

Shmuel Naparstek

Manager, Data and Systems Security

Congratulations on having decided to construct a Web Site. Our best wishes for success!

If the new site will be placed on a computer dedicated to this purpose, you are required to comply with the following rules:

1. Ensure that the operating system and security programs are up-to-date, including Anti-Virus programs. (An anti-virus program that is not up-to-date, means in fact, NO AV!)
2. "Harden" the dedicated computer, by removing irrelevant programs and services, to decrease the computer's vulnerability.
3. Access to the computer and to the network (if connected) by means of userid and password, must be encrypted, by implementing for example, the SSH protocol. This is to eliminate the possibility of stealing access codes, and thereby creating the likelihood of defacing the University site and name.

Applicant's Commitment

- I hereby confirm that I undertake to act in accordance with University policy as delineated in this document, and in keeping with the instructions appearing in this form and in: <http://www1.biu.ac.il/File/policyE.pdf>.
