Biology Education for Well-Being: The Role of 21st Century Skills for Informed, Responsible and Active Citizenship

Who? Science, health and environment educators and education researchers.

What? Discuss the intersection of 21st century skills with informed, responsible and active citizenship.

How? Speakers from Israel and abroad that will address the health and environmental challenges in Israel, roundtables and working groups led by national and international scholars.

Outcome? A set of recommendations to promote well-being through science education, that can be implemented locally and globally.

Limited capacity - register soon! Use QR code or link above.

bewb2022.wixsite.com/bewb bewb.2022@biu.ac.il

July 18-19, 2022
@ Bar-Ilan University